Chris Clayton is Managing Director of construction specialists, Kensington Company Limited. Over the last 4 years they have rapidly risen in prominence to becoming every expats first port of call for anything to do with design, property construction and the remodeling/refurbishment of condominiums/houses. Although better known for their custom built homes and amazing value for money, they also help many expats realise their dreams by turning something old into something fresh and new. With their creative guidance, professional team and knowledge of construction, they can help you turn your condominium into a beautiful home or transform that dated shop house into a luxury city pad.

How to Build Your House to Suit Yourself

If you have the land, Kensington can build your home. Like myself, I am sure you have also at some time, gazed at the wonderful homes in magazines or dreamt of your own special house. Some of us aspire to the 5 bedroom luxury house with swimming pool, others are happy with a 3 bedroom bungalow and some desire the taste of sheer exclusivity. Whatever your taste, whatever your budget Kensington is a company that truly delivers what they say they can; quality, value for money and fabulous customer care.

Kensington's Project Receives Conde Nast Award

A recent client found out how true this was. She worked abroad and wanted a company she could trust to design and build her boutique hotel. 12 months later she was moved in. The Villa Water Orchid was ready to take guests; the pool was full and the garden landscaped. Then in May 2008 the hotel received a reward of excellence. It was given the seal of approval by Conde Nast themselves and awarded the Hottest 100 Hotels in Asia.

Secret to Building a House Successfully
